HOW TO BECOME A JUDGE

Association of the Bar of The City of New York Special Committee To Encourage Judicial Service

I. Introduction

A. The Purpose of This Booklet

The original version of this booklet was issued by the Committee on the Judiciary and the Committee To Encourage Judicial Service of the Association of the Bar of The City of New York in connection with a Conference on Opportunities for Judicial Service held at the Association of the Bar of The City of New York on November 22, 1986.

This revised, updated and expanded booklet is issued in connection with the annual conference on "How to Become a Judge," to be held at the House of the Association on December 4, 2004.

Through these conferences, and the issuance of this booklet, the Special Committee To Encourage Judicial Service is seeking to expand the number of qualified candidates for judicial office by encouraging applications from persons who previously have not applied, including those from groups historically unrepresented or underrepresented in the judiciary as a whole, or in specific judicial offices, such as appellate courts.

In furtherance of these goals, this booklet is intended to provide a description of the methods of judicial selection, the relevant governmental, political and other bodies that participate in the selection processes, and the statutory and other criteria applicable to the selection process for each judicial position. This information applies to federal and state judicial offices in The City of New York, although some information is also applicable to judicial positions outside The City of New York.

While many judicial positions are elective, a substantial number are appointive and are based on the recommendations of judicial screening or nominating committees, which accept applications from all eligible attorneys. In some instances, appointments are also made to fill vacancies in elective positions. The following is a partial list of judicial positions that are filled by appointment: Family Court, Criminal Court, Interim Civil Court, Housing Court, Interim Supreme Court, Court of Claims, Interim Surrogate's Court and Court of Appeals. All federal judicial positions are filled by appointment.

This booklet also describes a number of paid and unpaid quasi-judicial positions, such as arbitrator and hearing examiner, which may provide a lawyer with an opportunity to serve in a decision-making capacity, as opposed to an adversarial position, to determine his or her affinity for the judicial role.

B. Sources of Further and Updated Information

Much of the information in this booklet is subject to change. This booklet is current through November 7, 2004. At this time, significant reviews of the judicial process, including possible legislative changes, are under consideration. Current information about specific judicial offices may be obtained from the sources identified in each respective section of this booklet.

The judiciary committees of county bar associations in The City of New York, listed in Appendix A, may be sources of further information.

C. Changes in Judicial Selection - Prior Trial Experience and Political Party Affiliation or Activity May Not Be Necessary

(i) Political Party Affiliation and Activity

Political party affiliation and activity, once a virtual prerequisite to obtaining judicial office, appears to be declining in influence as criteria relevant to certain judicial offices, especially in certain counties of The City of New York. Political party affiliation or activity is not a criterion employed by the statutory nominating bodies (e.g., the State of New York Commission on Judicial Nomination and the Advisory Council to the Housing Part of the Civil Court of The City of New York) and other merit selection nominating bodies (as opposed to screening bodies) described in this booklet, nor is it a criterion of the Mayor's Advisory Committee on the Judiciary or the State Judicial Screening Committee. However, political affiliation or activity may be a consideration of the ultimate appointing authority.

In some counties, historically dominated by a single political party, the selection of candidates for nomination by that party is virtually tantamount to election in the general election. Also, in some counties, the selection of nominees is determined by local political party organizations, with little or no involvement by an independent screening body.

In some of these instances, political considerations, including a history of political party activity, contributions to political party organizations, and acquaintance with political party officials, may influence the selection process to varying degrees.

Even where the nomination process appears to be virtually controlled by local political party organizations, the use of screening panels by these organizations has resulted in the nomination of candidates with little prior political involvement. The use of screening committees by the various county political organizations has expanded in recent years.

Because political party organizations are involved in the selection of candidates for some of the judicial positions described in this booklet - especially elected judgeships - it is helpful to communicate with local or county political party organizations to obtain further information about candidate selection, including the application process for any pre-primary election screening bodies. This is important because the procedures of these screening bodies may change from year to year.

Appendix B to this booklet lists some of the political organizations involved in the process of judicial selection.

(ii) Litigation Experience

Traditionally, it was believed that a candidate for judicial office was required to possess substantial trial experience in order to receive serious consideration. While relevant trial experience remains helpful, extensive trial experience may not be essential for many judicial positions.

Over the years, nonlitigators, including law secretaries, law clerks, professors, administrators and lawyers holding positions in government and private sector organizations, have been selected for judicial office and have proven their ability to learn and perform the duties of judicial officers. The realization that good jurists do not come exclusively from the courtroom, combined with the goal of many merit selection judicial screening or nominating bodies to broaden the pool of potential candidates, has led to a decrease in the importance of prior litigation experience, especially in considering candidates for some lower court positions.

D. Bar Association Review of Candidates

In addition to the selection processes discussed in this booklet, the Committee on the Judiciary of the Association of the Bar of The City of New York, in conjunction with the county bar association in the relevant county, investigates and evaluates the qualifications of all candidates for judicial office in The City of New York. The results of these reviews are reported to the appointing authority in the case of appointed judgeships, and to the public by press release in the case of elective judgeships.

A bar association review typically includes the candidate's response to a questionnaire submitted by the association, one or more interviews with representatives of the judiciary committee of the association, review of the candidate's writings, and interviews by committee members of adversaries, judges and others with whom the candidate has dealt.

Appendix C to this booklet lists the members of the Committee on the Judiciary of the Association of the Bar of The City of New York.

E. Standards of Review

The descriptions of the judicial positions discussed in this booklet indicate the minimum qualifications required by statute for each position. In addition, the various nominating, screening, reviewing and appointing bodies may have developed other requirements. Any requirements that have been publicly issued are reproduced in this booklet.

It is difficult to set forth definitive criteria for evaluating candidates for judicial office. The general standards most often stated include:

General intellectual ability;

Knowledge of the law, including knowledge of the specific body of law applicable to the court in which the position is sought. Because judges often sit in courts to which they were not originally elected or appointed (e.g., Civil Court judges may sit by assignment in the Criminal Court or in the Criminal Term of the Supreme Court), knowledge of other areas of the law also is important;

Appropriate demeanor and judicial temperament, including an ability to deal patiently and considerately with both attorneys and pro se litigants and, in the case of appellate courts, with other judges in a collegial setting;

Industriousness and a proven willingness to work hard;

An ability to discern facts and weigh conflicting evidence;

An ability to understand legal arguments and to make prompt, correct determinations of legal issues;

An absence of bias and a commitment to equal justice for all;

Integrity, candor and an absence of outside political or other influence; and

A commitment to public service, particularly to judicial service.

F. When to Apply

Vacancies in judicial offices and the commencement of selection processes are usually announced in the press. However, the announcement may be small and may be printed only by the New York Law Journal. Also, in some cases (e.g., selections made by the Mayor's Advisory Committee), the selection process is a continuous one. Accordingly, regular inquiry of the appointing, nominating, reviewing and screening bodies listed in this booklet is suggested in order to assure that a potential candidate is aware of a vacancy in time to complete the application process.

Additional information on anticipated vacancies may be available from Chief Administrative Judge, The Office of Court Administration, 25 Beaver Street, 11th Floor, New York, New York 10004, (212) 428-2100.

II. New York City Courts

A. Appointments to Terms on the Family Court and Criminal Court and to Interim Appointments To Fill Unexpired Terms for Vacancies on the Civil Court

General Comments - Appointment of Family Court and Criminal Court Judges and interim appointments (of up to one year) to fill vacancies on the Civil Court are made by the Mayor of The City of New York from a list of candidates submitted by the Mayor's Advisory Committee on the Judiciary.

The Mayor's Advisory Committee is composed of 19 members, all of whom are volunteers and are appointed as follows: The Mayor selects 9 members. The Chief Judge of the New York Court of Appeals nominates 4 members; the Presiding Justices of the Appellate Divisions of the Supreme Court for the First and Second Judicial Departments each nominate 2 members, and deans of the law schools in The City of New York, on an annual rotating basis, each nominate one member. The Mayor's approval of selections is necessary. See Appendices D and E.

Questionnaires and other information may be obtained from the Committee at:

Mayor's Advisory Committee on the Judiciary Desirée Kim, Executive Director 36 West 44th Street, Suite 1408 New York, New York 10036 (212) 944-6225

Generally, nominees of the Mayor's Committee are reviewed by the Mayor's Advisory Committee on the Judiciary and the Judiciary Committee of the Bar Association of The City of New York and will not be selected or appointed if found not qualified by those committees. For a list of the present membership of the Mayor's Advisory Committee, see Appendix D. #### 1. Jurisdiction of Family Court, Criminal Court and Civil Court

a) Family Court

The Family Court has jurisdiction over actions and proceedings concerning (1) the protection, treatment, correction and commitment of minors in need of the exercise of the authority of the court because of circumstances of neglect, delinquency or dependency, as the legislature may determine; (2) the custody of minors except for custody incidental to actions and proceedings for marital separation, divorce, annulment of marriage, and dissolution of marriage; (3) the adoption of persons; (4) the support of dependents except when incidental to actions and proceedings in this state for marital separation, divorce, annulment of marriage or dissolution of marriage; (5) the establishment of paternity; (6) proceedings for conciliation of spouses; and (7) as may be provided by law; the guardianship of minors, in conformity with the provisions of section seven of this article, and crimes and offenses by or against minors or between spouses or between parent and child or between members of the same family or household. The family court may also take jurisdiction over certain matters referred to it by the Supreme Court. N.Y. Const. Art. 6 13(b)(1) - 13(b)(6), 13(c), and Art. 7 § 7(a).

b) Criminal Court

The Criminal Court has City-wide criminal jurisdiction over crimes and other violations of law, other than those prosecuted by indictment, provided, however, that the Legislature may grant to the Criminal Court jurisdiction over misdemeanors prosecuted by indictment; and over such other actions and proceedings, not within the exclusive jurisdiction of the Supreme Court, as may be provided by law. N.Y. Const. Art. 6 § 15(c).

Specifically, this includes jurisdiction to hear, try and determine all misdemeanor charges, except libel, and all offenses of a grade less than misdemeanor. N.Y. City Crim. Ct. Act § 31. General Comments - Political party nomination (especially the Democratic Party nomination, in all counties except Richmond) is very important for election. In the counties, the presence of competing factions within the political parties has provided an opportunity for many well-qualified persons to be nominated in spite of past political inactivity. Interested persons should communicate with any screening panels and the various political party organizations active in their respective districts. See Appendix B.

III. New York State Courts

A. Election to the Supreme Court of the State of New York

General Comments - Democrats are most often elected as Supreme Court Justices in New York City as a result of New York City's predominantly Democratic electorate. Under current procedure, each political party holds a judicial nominating convention for each judicial district. The conventions are attended by delegates elected in each Assembly District or, in some cases, a part thereof, at the primary immediately preceding the election involved. N.Y. Election Law § 6-124. The rules governing time, place and procedure of conventions are left to committees appointed under the rules of the state committee of each political party. Id. § 6-126(a).

For administrative purposes, New York State is divided into 12 judicial districts, with the following judicial districts in New York City (N.Y. Judiciary Law § 140):

First District	-	Manhattan (New York)

Section 1. Committee Established. The Mayor's Advisory Committee on the Judiciary (hereinafter called the "Committee") hereby is established in the Office of the Mayor to recruit, to evaluate, to consider and to nominate judicial candidates highly qualified for appointment and to evaluate incumbent judges for reappointment to the following courts within The City of New York: Criminal Court, Family Court and for interim appointments, Civil Court.

Section 2. Functions. The Committee shall:

(a) Take steps to recruit and encourage highly qualified persons for such appointment to serve as a judge of a court in New York City and to receive from any source the names of candidates appearing to have the highest qualifications for judicial office;

(b) Evaluate and conduct all necessary inquiry to determine those persons whose character, ability, training, experience, temperament and commitment to equal justice under law fully qualify them for judicial office;

(c) Consider all relevant information to determine which of the highly qualified candidates are best qualified for judicial office, and refer to the Department of Investigation for screening all persons the Committee proposes to nominate for appointment;

(d) Nominate and present to the Mayor three candidates for appointment to each vacant judicial office, except that if there are numerous vacancies the Committee, in its discretion, may present less than three nominations (unless the Mayor requests three nominations) for each vacancy, and provide such information as may be necessary to inform the Mayor of the qualifications of each nominee; and

(e) Evaluate the qualifications of each incumbent judge for reappointment to judicial office and present the Committee's recommendation to the Mayor, provided that if the Committee finds the incumbent is not highly qualified for reappointment, or if the Mayor, following receipt of the Committee's recommendation, finds that the incumbent is not highly qualified for reappointment, the Committee shall nominate and present to the Mayor three candidates for appointment to the resulting vacancy other than the incumbent.

Section 3. Public Hearings.

(a) The Mayor shall notify the Committee of the name of any person chosen for appointment from among the nominees submitted by the Committee and shall notify the Committee of the name of each incumbent judge chosen for reappointment as recommended by the Committee. The Committee shall promptly thereafter conduct a public hearing except in the case of the appointment of an incumbent judge. Such hearings shall be upon reasonable notice and any person may present information concerning the fitness of the nominee for appointment. Based on the information received, the Committee may reconsider the nomination. If any reconsideration results in withdrawal of a nomination, the Mayor shall be notified immediately by the Committee and the nominee shall not be appointed.

(b) The Committee may from time to time conduct public hearings concerning the process of judicial selection.

Section 4. Appointments by the Mayor.

 (a) The Mayor shall not appoint a judge unless nominated by the Committee, and shall not reappoint an incumbent judge unless recommended for reappointment by the Committee. (b) Judicial vacancies shall be filled within ninety days unless a longer period is required in the public interest.

(c) After the Mayor appoints a nominee to fill a judicial vacancy, the remaining nominations submitted by the Committee for that vacancy shall expire immediately, unless a vacancy or vacancies exist in the same court. #### EXECUTIVE ORDER

ESTABLISHING JUDICIAL SCREENING COMMITTEES TO ENSURE THAT JUDICIAL OFFICER APPOINTMENTS ARE OF THE HIGHEST QUALITY

WHEREAS, under the Constitution and Laws of the State of New York the Governor is entrusted with the responsibility of appointing various judicial officers;

WHEREAS, both the rule of law and public confidence in the integrity of the judicial process require that the primary criteria for selecting judicial officers be the quality of their intellect, judgment, temperament, character and experience; that candidates for judicial office be chosen without regard to political party affiliation or background; that highly qualified candidates be encouraged to apply for judicial offices; and that highly qualified candidates should be drawn from a cross-section of the state, reflecting a diversity of experience and background;

WHEREAS, the highest quality of judicial officer appointments can best be assured with the assistance of non-partisan judicial screening committees composed of outstanding citizens drawn from all quarters of the state; and

WHEREAS, the first obligation of Government is to protect its citizens from crime and violence; public confidence in the criminal justice system has been eroded; and certain judicial offices exercise important responsibilities in the administration of the criminal justice system;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, GEORGE E. PATAKI, Governor of the State of New York, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and Laws of the State of New York, do hereby order as follows:

- 1. Judicial Screening Committees, as described below, are hereby established.
- 2. Each Judicial Screening Committee shall:

a. Actively recruit candidates for appointment or designation to the judicial offices within the committee's jurisdiction, to the end of obtaining candidates reflecting the diverse backgrounds and experience of the citizens of this State;

b. Review and evaluate the qualifications of candidates recruited by it or proposed to it by any person or organization, and conduct all appropriate inquiry into the qualifications of all such candidates. In reviewing and evaluating the qualifications of candidates, each committee member shall give primary consideration to the quality of a candidate's intellect, judgment, temperament, character and experience, and shall not give any consideration to the race, religion, gender, national origin, sexual orientation or political party affiliation of a candidate. Whenever appropriate to a particular judicial office, each committee member shall remain cognizant of my commitment to protecting the citizens of this State from crime and violence and to enhancing public confidence in the criminal justice system;

c. Recommend for appointment or designation only those candidates who, as determined by a majority vote of all members of the committee, are highly qualified for the judicial office for which they are being considered. No committee shall pass on the qualifications of any candidate until after a thorough inquiry has been made by the committee and its staff;

d. Prepare written reports on the qualifications of each candidate it determines to be highly qualified and recommends to the Governor. The reports shall remain confidential, except that upon the announcement by the Governor of an appointment the report relating to the appointee shall be available for public inspection. All records and deliberations of, and all communications to, the Judicial Screening Committee with respect to a candidate's qualifications shall be held in confidence and shall not be disclosed to anyone other than the Governor, Counsel to the Governor or their designees. Notwithstanding the foregoing, information submitted to the Judicial Screening Committees relating to an appointee may be disclosed to the Senate when necessary for constitutional confirmation of the appointee, and information submitted to the Judicial Screening Committee may be disclosed to any other person or organization if disclosure is required in connection with disciplinary proceedings.

3. A State Judicial Screening Committee is hereby established. The State Judicial Screening Committee shall consist of thirteen members: one person selected by the Governor, the Chairperson of each of the Departmental Judicial Screening Committees established by paragraph 4 of this Order, and two of the other members of each of the Departmental Judicial Screening Committees, who shall be selected by the Governor. The chairperson of the State Judicial Screening Committee shall be appointed by the Governor from among the members of the Committee.

The State Judicial Screening Committee shall promulgate appropriate rules and regulations to govern its proceedings and those of the Departmental and County Judicial Screening Committees established by this Order. The rules and regulations shall include standards and procedures for ensuring, to the extent possible, uniformity of criteria for evaluating the qualification of candidates for appointment or designation to judicial office throughout the State.
